1) THE BRUCE LEE MARTIAL ARTS LEGEND HALL OF HONOR Background:

Bruce Lee's daughter, Shannon, attended the 2002 Arnold Battle of Columbus and accepted The first Hall of Honor Induction Award on behalf of her father, the great Bruce Lee.

Bruce Lee promoted the modern concept of martial arts to the world through his many movie roles. He was born on November 27, 1940, in Hong Kong, was a graduate of Washington State University, and starred in many television and film productions including The Green Hornet and Enter the Dragon. He was an ardent student of Wing Chun Kung Fu and developed and successfully spread his own style, Jeet Kune Do. Bruce Lee passed away in 1973 at the age of 33. He left behind a legacy to be admired and honored.

With his superb talent in martial arts and in action movies, he was able to revolutionize Asian culture, perceptions of the martial arts, and perceptions of Asian people in the western hemisphere forever. He is one of the only movie stars who became more famous after his death. His legacy will never die.

2) THE ARNOLD BOC MARTIAL ARTS LEGEND HALL OF HONOR:

The Battle of Columbus was founded in 1976 by SGM Joon P. Choi with the idea of promoting true diversity in the martial arts community. The Battle of Columbus offered various martial arts disciplines and their students the opportunity to explore their skills and to develop a family-like atmosphere among different martial arts styles.

In 2001, the Battle of Columbus joined with the Arnold Sports Festival as partners and grew to over 4,000 athletes and over 10,000 spectators.

In 2015, in conjunction with The Bruce Lee and Martial Arts Hall of Honor Induction, SGM Choi began the tradition to honor masters, competitors, coaches, promoters, and volunteers who have dedicated more than 10 years of service to develop the Arnold Battle of Columbus into a unique martial arts championship.

3) THE BRUCE LEE HALL of HONOR Martial Arts Legends
