Dear Fellow Martial Artists and Arnold Battle of Columbus Supporters,

It is hard to believe that it has been 43 years since the first Battle Columbus in 1976. It has been my privilege and honor to be your host, and I sincerely appreciate your support and encouragement. Founding a multidisciplinary championship to embrace the diversity of all martial arts in the most positive way has been one of my most treasured achievements. I could not have done it without you.

The Battle of Columbus was created to offer an opportunity for all martial arts practitioners around the world to compete in a variety of martial arts events and to explore, test, and share the skills that they diligently and patiently developed. The Arnold Battle of Columbus also offers a chance to meet martial arts leaders from many styles and disciplines, who share common goals in martial arts philosophy, principles, and traditions.

As is our custom, we will be recognizing the great martial arts pioneers and their successors for their contributions to the development of the world of Martial Arts for Truth, Goodness, and Beauty with the Bruce Lee & Arnold Legends of Martial Arts Hall of Honor Induction Ceremony. The induction ceremony will take place on Friday, March 1, 2019, at Oriental Martial Arts College.

I am excited to again host one of the most prestigious open martial arts events in the U.S. and to partner with the Arnold Sports Festival. Such extraordinary events wouldn't be possible without the enthusiastic support from every single one of you. Let us enjoy the true diversity of the martial arts, meet mighty Arnold and become a part of history.

Sincerely in the spirit of martial arts,

SGM Joon P. Choi, 10th Dan Black Belt

Reflexology

English Language Learners Definition of reflexology

: a method of relieving pain or curing illness by pressing on particular parts of a person's hands or feet

Reasons Athletes Use Reflexology

Posted on December 28, 2010 by Susan Mix

Whether you're a pro-athlete, semi-pro, or a just a weekend warrior trying to stay healthy, incorporating Reflexology into your fitness program can provide amazing benefits. Here's a few reasons both research and my clients say Reflexology can help athletes:

1. According to research at Bonash University, Australia, Reflexology can remove lactic acid from the legs four times faster than massage. Some clients who run marathons and half-marathons find a session after their race provides helpful relief for tightness in their legs.
2. Reflexology can increase circulation to an injured area of the body, so it helps support the body's natural ability to heal itself and can promote faster recovery from injuries. If you have an injury to the foot, a Reflexologist can work on your hand instead. The hand is the "referral area" for the foot and vice versa, so it's possible to help even when a hand or foot is too badly injured to work directly.
3. Reflexology can address pain. Many athletes experience foot pain caused by plantar fasciitis, neuroma or tendonitis. These conditions can be addressed by surgery and other medical treatments, but lots of athletes are holistically inclined and want to avoid drugs and surgery. Many report Reflexology has been a viable option for them. One client with plantar fasciitis pain had a first Reflexology session early in the week and then ran a four mile race later that week without pain. Several other clients who love to hike but have a neuroma found Reflexology helped to get them back on the trail quickly. Others who participate in sports that stress the shoulders, arms and hands such as golf, tennis, racquet-ball, or water-skiing have reported Reflexology helped to address their issues such as tennis elbow and forearm pain.
4. A Reflexology session promotes deep relaxation and can improve sleep. Many athletes find Reflexology is useful to help ease nervousness and achieve better sleep in advance of an event. Research has shown a Reflexology session creates a deeply restful and healing brainwave state. One client who is a distance-runner, even uses our sessions for visualizing a successful race! She reports it helps calm her and believes it enhances her performance.

So there are good reasons for any athlete to consider adding Reflexology to a fitness regimen. Even if you're not in it to win, the benefits can be terrific for your overall health and enable you to keep up your fitness routine! This is the disclaimer to remind you that I am not a licensed physician and cannot give medical advice or treatment. These are my personal opinions and the summarization of research as well as verbal and written reports of some of my clients. As always, consult your doctor if you need medical advice or treatment.

4. HALL OF HONOR INDUCTIONS AND AWARDS:

Definitions, Nomination, and Selection Guidelines are Online www.ArnoldBoc.com

To be eligible, a candidate's record must be free from any record of punishment by any community or organization due to misconduct or conviction of a crime.

1) THE BRUCE LEE MARTIAL ARTS LEGEND HALL OF HONOR Background:

Bruce Lee's daughter, Shannon, attended the 2002 Arnold Battle of Columbus and accepted The first Hall of Honor Induction Award on behalf of her father, the great Bruce Lee.

Bruce Lee promoted the modern concept of martial arts to the world through his many movie roles. He was born on November 27, 1940, in Hong Kong, was a graduate of Washington State University, and starred in many television and film productions including The Green Hornet and Enter the Dragon. He was an ardent student of Wing Chun Kung Fu and developed and successfully spread his own style, Jeet Kune Do. Bruce Lee passed away in 1973 at the age of 33. He left behind a legacy to be admired and honored.

With his superb talent in martial arts and in action movies, he was able to revolutionize Asian culture, perceptions of the martial arts, and perceptions of Asian people in the western hemisphere forever. He is one of the only movie stars who became more famous after his death. His legacy will never die.

2) THE ARNOLD BOC MARTIAL ARTS LEGEND HALL OF HONOR:

The Battle of Columbus was founded in 1976 by SGM Joon P. Choi with the idea of promoting true diversity in the martial arts community. The Battle of Columbus offered various martial arts disciplines and their students the opportunity to explore their skills and to develop a family-like atmosphere among different martial arts styles.

In 2001, the Battle of Columbus joined with the Arnold Sports Festival as partners and grew to over 4,000 athletes and over 10,000 spectators.

In 2015, in conjunction with The Bruce Lee and Martial Arts Hall of Honor Induction, SGM Choi began the tradition to honor masters, competitors, coaches, promoters, and volunteers who have dedicated more than 10 years of service to develop the Arnold Battle of Columbus into a unique martial arts championship.

3) THE BRUCE LEE HALL of HONOR Martial Arts Legends

The Bruce Lee and Legends of Martial Arts Hall of Honor is designed to honor pioneers, grandmasters, masters, instructors, and all other martial arts leaders and supporters who have a proven record of pioneering, developing, and promoting the various oriental martial arts such as Taekwondo, Karate, Kungfu/Wushu, Taichi, Hapkido, Aikido, Judo, Gumdo/Kendo, Jujitsu/Grappling, Silat, Sambo/Sombo, Muay Thai and Kimoodo Healing arts to their region, state, nation, and the world from the 1940s to the present day.

The Bruce Lee Legends of Martial Arts Hall of Honor Induction does not only recognize first generation leaders but also 2nd and 3rd generation martial arts leaders who by their own achievement have carried on the spirit of martial arts taught by their first generation masters to build a lasting legacy and honorable lineage for the coming generations.

4) HALL OF HONOR - DISCIPLINES, CATEGORIES, SELECTION Process:

bruce lee foundation

“preserving and perpetuating the art, philosophy, life and legacy of Bruce Lee for generations to come.”

The Bruce Lee Foundation is a resource for those seeking authentic information about Bruce Lee and his teachings. We endeavor to deliver Bruce Lee's philosophical message and life example to the public through a number of different venues. The Foundation wishes to reach out, not only to martial artists and Bruce Lee fans, but also to those who are not yet acquainted with the true Bruce Lee, his struggles, his triumphs and his life methodology.

Objectives of the Bruce Lee Foundation:

- Award educational scholarships
- Create a permanent Bruce Lee Museum
- Create educational materials
- Preserve Bruce's art of Jun Fan Jeet Kune Do®

It has been the experience of Bruce Lee's family and friends that his search for a better life has had a tremendous influence on many people the world over.

To find out more about Bruce Lee and Jun Fan Jeet Kune Do® or to apply for a scholarship, go to www.bruceleefoundation.com (currently under construction).

A Brief History Of The Bruce Lee Collection

Supreme Grand Master Joon P. Choi was hosting the World Martial Arts Expo and Asian Culture Fair in the late 1990s when he received a phone call from Robert Blakeman, who was a student of his in the early 1970s. During their conversation, Blakeman revealed that he had been collecting memorabilia on Bruce Lee for a long time, including several pictures, posters, books, videos and personal writings from the late film star.

GM Choi was intrigued and asked Blakeman to participate in his event and display some of the collection. Blakeman did so for two years. But with the dawn of a new millennium, Blakeman became ill and wasn't heard from. GM Choi investigated and found out that Blakeman had passed away on July 11, 2001. He was 45.

Then Blakeman's partner, Mickey Prince, agreed to display the collection at GM Choi's event. But that arrangement took place for only one year. Prince died January 26, 2002. He was 37. However, it didn't take long to determine what was to become of the collection. Blakeman and Prince had prepared a will with instructions to turn the collection over to GM Choi, who was asked to exhibit it in an effort to preserve the movie star's memories.

GM Choi has ensured that the collection has been displayed at several events, staffed by students who eagerly explain its journey and significance. The collection has more than 5,000 pieces and is recognized as one of the largest in the world. The pieces are housed at the headquarters of the Oriental Martial Arts College and the alliance, 1349 Brice Road in Reynoldsburg, Ohio, a suburb of Columbus. The general public is invited to view the collection. Admission is free, although donations are accepted.

In 2004, GM Choi and organizers for his annual Battle of Columbus World Martial Arts Games invited Bruce Lee's daughter, Shannon, to receive an award on the legend's behalf. Ted Wong, a top student of Bruce Lee's, also attended the ceremony. Today, GM Choi and the Bruce Lee Collection Committee are seeking to build a Legends of Martial Arts Hall of Fame. No time line has been set for the project, but organizers expect that Blakeman's collection will be the centerpiece.
